Most thought the trouble was gone by, and yesterday he came back to the city and went to work with his paper. Byrnes was informed of this, and early this morning he went before the District Attorney and presented the evidence he had obtained against Most—his incendiary remarks—and asked the Grand Jury to find indictments against him. The former editor of the Alarm has been strangled to death by the State. The seal of legal disapproval has been placed upon free speech, and henceforth workingmen and women must keep stlent, or only clamor for relief through the lines laid down for them. Relief may be asked, parties may be organized, but opposition to the source of injustice by which relief becomes ever necessary, changes frustrated, and parties handicapped, is henceforth throttled. In the former the rise has been unprecedented. Previous to October the price of spottin was from 23 to 231 cents per pound. Now, owing chiefly to the corner in the London market, the price has reached 32 cents, the highest it has been for nearly twenty years. Ten years ago it touched 254 cents. The question now is how long the corner can

The Mail Service. Washington, November 17th .- The annual report of T. A. Nash, General Super-intendent of the Railway Mail Service, shows that at the close of the fiscal year ended June 30, 1887, mail service had been authorized upon 130,959 miles of railroad, postal clerks being employed in distribut-ing mail on 166,609 miles. The service on the remaining 14,360 miles was performed by closed pouches. At the same date there were in operation forty-one inland steamboat routes, aggregating 5,864 miles, on which postal clerks were employed. The expenditures for the service during the year aggregate $1,713.391, leaving $94,608 of the appropriation unexpended. For the next fiscal year $2,031,288 is asked.

Street Cars Tied Up. CINCINNATI, November 17th .- A strike of onsolidated Street Car Railway conductors and drivers began to-night. The conductors' and drivers' commutee demanded that the Consolidated Street Railway dismiss John Harris, their Superintendent. He was charged with disorderly conduct in speaking at Trafalgar Square, and thereby causing a disorderly assemblage. He was also charged with obstructing the police. The Crown counsel admitted that the charges were unstatutory, and requested that they be dismissed. Saunders insisted on a conviction. The Magistrate, however, dismissed the charge. Their advisers have lauded them in a most ignominious plight. They refuse to prosecute Saunders in a peaceful test case, alleging that the point can be better raised in the prosecution of Graham. If this is the direct discouragement to constitutional methods and a distinct incitement to violence, we should be glad to know what it is. Sir Charles Warren's proclamation is a waste of paper."

AN EVENT THAT SHOULD BE CELE-BRATED

The California and Oregon Railroad the first train through from Sacramento to Portland, Oregon, will be sent out. The event will be one of great moment to this State, and to no part of it more important than to Northern and Central California. It has long been looked forward to with pleasurable anticipation; when other sections of the State refused countenance and line; when vicious endeavors were being made in Congress to cripple the building of the road by withdrawing the basis of its credit; Sacramento and the cities and towns of the Sacramento basin stood true spared no effort in resistance of the at- jute-mill plans, and that he (the Treasurer)

THE BENHAYON MYSTERY.

The theory has not been publicly advanced as yet, though entertained by not a few, that Dimmig, now charged with the murder of Benhayon, has his lips sealed for a peculiar reason; that he is what is known as a procurer—that despicable creature whose business it is to arrange appointments between men and women, the disclosure of whose names as parties to assignations would shock society and make the little world of San Francisco hold its breath with amazement. There are such men, cunning, bold, close-mouthed, conscienceless, and while in the absence of positive evidence Dimmig cannot be charged with that anfamous calling, certain it is that all his mysterious actions exactly comport with the theory that he is one of the creatures of the character referred to. These people proceed very differently from procuresses, and deal with a very different class. They more frequently than not bring tegether men and women than not being tegether men and women who to that amoment were total strangers. They reap a rich reward from their infamous calling, and act very much as Dimmig has been proved to have consumpted.

The theory, it is known, is under examination by the detectives, as an explanation of a very grave fact, to wit, that Dimmig conducts himself in a manner inconsistent with the theory of his guilt of murder. His evident and a conduct of the c expressed confidence in his ability to clear himself by speaking out is not behavior that characterizes the guilty; but his refusal to speak, and to satisfactorily exclusive functions and the satisfactorily exclusive functions and functions are supported by wheaton and Adams for appellant, Thicken for respondents; ordered that appellants be slowed five days to file brief, respondent five days to reply thereto, and cause to be thereupon submitted. plain his relation to the case and the circumstances that now involve him in the theory of his guilt as a murderer, does support the theory first referred to, that he has been a "go between," and that as such he was thrown into relation with the time and place of Benhayon's death, and with that young man frequently prior to his death but will not reveal the secrets of which damaging circumstances against him, unless it becomes necessary to do so to save his life. That if he does this they will involve eople as yet unnamed, and in matters shameful but not murderous. Pardons.

On Wednesday, pardon day, Governor well.

Again I wish to thank you for your kindness. I came among you a stranger, and I already feel that I have many friends here.

I have been in this city many times, and my association with this place has always been pleasant. Here I performed my first military association with this place has always been pleasant. Here I performed my first military association with this place has always been pleasant. Here I performed my first military association with this place has always been pleasant. Here I performed my first military association with this place has always been pleasant. Here I performed my first military association with this place has always been pleasant. Here I performed my first military structural Park in war times. It was here I first gained the right to wear the badge of the society whose motion is 'Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty,' and it is here where I shall finish my military service, for at the end of my term in my present office I shall go on the retired list.

Waterman listened to thirty-seven applications. In each instance the pardons were requested either by members of the convict's family or most intimate friends. The Governor has not as yet announced any pardons, but it has been intimated that he will do so to-day. The names of the convicts for whom appeals have been made are kept from the public, and those who are the State Board of Trade rooms in San Francisco the convicts for whom appeals have been made are kept from the public, and those who solitates are being put in place. While it would be impossible to adopt a rule regarding the granting of pardons, from the fact that no two cases are alike, the Governor has expressed himself as in favor of giving young offenders an opportunity to reform, and when such case come before him and he has reason to believe a pardon would work a reformation they will be carefully considered, and prob-ably their terms of imprisonment shortened. Second termers, hardened criminals and murderers, will no doubt find it uphill work, for the Governor will not, it is believed, interfere in such cases unless they have the best of grounds for pardon and it is shown that the Courts have been unusu ally severe in their sentence. It is positively known that the Governo has no scruples about capital punishment and is of the opinion that if there were more executions there would be less murders committed. While he says he does not wish to antagonize the legal fraternity he would much rather prefer that the appeals for pardons would come up through the relatives and friends of the convict. The attorneys should stop with the Courts Their solicitations should not go further. While he would not debar their coming before him, he does not desire are engaged to present the matter before the Governor. In many instances, in fact in nearly every instance, the appealing parties are poor; they scrape together a few dollars to fee an attorney, which had better be devoted to procuring food and clothing for the little ones. In conversation the Governor instanced several such cases where the appealing party was a widow who had a hard struggle to care for herself Death of Mrs. Haymond.

At 2 o'clock this morning news was re eived here of the death at San Francisco last evening, of Alice, wife of Hon. Attention to Details.

We don't refer simply to the increased space to the higher piles of goods-to the apparent lack of room on all sides. Nor do we refer to the large number of people who were some one else's customers last year, but are here this. We refer to its inward growth-to the expanding of that spirit which has put better goods and lower prices on our shelves this year than last, and which in the same way will do better in 1888 than

ENERGY AND WATCHFULNESS.

Steady and unceasing, are the common watchwords in all departments. Such a spirit never lets well enough alone. It's constantly on the alert for weak spots. If a certain line of goods can be bought for a trifle less by doubling the purchase, then the order goes for case lots. If one maker sews his clothing with silk and another with linen, then, other things being equal, we want the silk-sewed clothing. In a large store there are always such

OPPORTUNITIES BY HUNDREDS.

And it makes a difference-a wonderful differencewhether or not they are seized upon and turned to the mutual advantage of customer and dealer. Attention to details has won battles, made small men great, and built up business of colossal magnitude. If our house had nothing else in its favor, that one habit of looking to details ought to be sufficient to commend it to favorable attention.

And so the business knows no standstill. Its course is along the line of progress, and its growth is as great from within as from without.

Holiday Goods are already here in large quantities, and the collection is growing each day.

THE LATE A. A. COHEN. A Brief Sketch of the Life of a Self-Made

Man and Pionger of California. [S. F. Call, Nevember 17th] A special dispatch brought intelligence of the death of A. A. Cohen, attorney for the Central Pacine Railroad, which event ocourred yesterday morning a few miles east of Cheyenne, while homeward bound in a special car. He was taken ill in New York The remains will arrive here on train time

Friday morning. Of the early life of Mr. Cohen, beyond the fact that he was born on the Island of Jamaica of English parents, but little is known. He was, as a boy, noted for his quick conception and the ease with which he grasped everything he undertook. After his fourteenth year he never had a day's schooling, except in the rugged paths of the strictest sense of the word, a self-med

It is said that he studied law in England

but if he did the fact is not known to those with whom he was most immediately asso ated here. He came to California in 849, embarked in the commission business in Sacramento, continuing there dur-ng 1849 50, when he was made the agent the Adams Express Company in this ity, the circumstances attending whose affare, in 1855, are matters of history. Speaking of Mr. Cohen last night, Samuel A. Nelson said: "He was a man of very general reading, and was particularly well versed in English history. He was possessed of a wonderful memory. He was in business for many years before he studied law and commenced to practice, but he sprung to a front rank in the pro-fession immediately. He comprehended legal questions, and grasped the principles of the law with wonderful aptitude. He was a genial host and a grand entertainer. He was a man of dignified presence."

He was the first man in California to build and operate a railroad—that after ward known as the San Francisco and Almeda Railroad. He also operated the first erry line, and built the Encinal mole, outh of the present narrow-gauge line.

The raifroad ran along the mole to the San Lean iro road and thence to Haywards, and can still be seen from the track of the Central Pacific road. During the years 1868 and 1869 he was the Superintendent of this road, and was still connected with it in 75, when he sold out to the Central Paitic Company, and was retained by them as their attorney.

This connection, however, brought him into litigation, and on March 7, 1876, he brought suit against the company for $106,000. Judge Delos Lake was his counsel in this suit, but almost its entire management devolved upon Mr. Cohen himself. He ad a powerful array of legal talent against him, the names of Hall McAllister, Har vey Brown and Judge Sanderson appearing or the defense. He won the suit, and the argument he made in his behalf was a masrpiece of eloquence and legal acumen. From that time on his position was es-blished. He was attorney for J. P. Treadell in the famous case of Treadwell vs. ne Bank of California, the counsel opposed him having been Samuel W. Wilson and hall McAllister. Gumpel was the expert or the plaintiff and Hickox for the defendant. In this sait he recovered $55,000 for his client. He was also retained as counse mpromised by the road paying the county. In 1879 Mr. Cohen was again made coun el for the Central Pacific Railroad, and ince that time he has been in their excluve employment. Most of the company's tigation during the past three or four ears has been in the East, and as a consevere the greater portion of Mr. Cohen's ne during those years he has resided inw York city. His strength was taxed to the utmost, and in the spring of 1883 he was stricken with paralysis, from which, however, he parently recovered. During the past summer he was recalled ander an Act of Congress, and the consummate ability he displayed during that i estigation was a matter of general com-

Of late he has suffered intensely from sthma, and when he left New York last week to return to his home here the railroad company sent out a private parlor car, "El Carmelo," to bring him. He was expected to arrive here on Friday and his wife went out to meet him at Ogden and was with him on his return. Mr. Cohen's residence at Fernside, Alameda, is a magnificent estate. The house is surrounded by 150 acres of land, lying at the foot of Versailles avenue. His library is one of the most extensive in this State. Near him lives his brother, Alexander A. sho is also the possessor of a handsome Mr. Cohen leaves, besides his widow our sons and three daughters. The eldest on, W. G. "Aren't you tempting fate by making sport of your old enemy?" Oh, no, I fear him no longer. My last ussle with him was over two years ago, and all the agony of the years of remission settled on me then. My physicians gave me no hope of recovery. I had faith in myself, however."

Well, how did it work?" "The rheumatism was in my case, as in pearly all others, caused by a disease of the blood, probably produced by unsuspected inactivity of the kidneys, for I had never had any pain in them. Twenty bottles Warner's safe cure, however, completely purified my blood, and I never have enoyed such robust health as now. Hundreds of my friends in Europe and America have on my recommendation used it for general lebility, malaria, rheumatism, etc., and I have never heard an unsatisfactory repor om them.

Liver Complaint Is more surely and speedily cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, than by any other remedy. . I was a great sufferer from liver troubles, and never found anything that gave me permanent relief until I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, about two years ago. A few bottles of this medicine produced a radical cure. - Wm. E. Baker, 155 W. Brookline st., Boston, Mass.

A Remarkable Cure. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured me of as Ayer's Sarsaparilla has cured me of at bad a case of Abseess of the Liver as any human being could be afflicted with and live. I was confined to the house for two years, and, for the last three months of that time, was unable to leave my bed. Four physicians treated me without giving relief, and, in fact, nothing helped me, until I tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using a quarter of a bottle of this medicine I began to feel better, and every additional dose seemed to bring new health and strength. I used three bottles, and am now able to attend to my business. 11/3 Occidental Coll 22 6/2 Lady Wash 80c 5/265/4 Anges 1 65@1 75 8/2 Scorptor 1 20 233/2 21 Baltimore 1 10 81/46/8/5 East Best & B 55c 63/26/2 Trojan 10c and am now able to attend to my business, and am now able to attend to my business. I walk to town—one mile distant—and return, without difficulty. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has accomplished all this for me.—W. S. Miner, Carson City, Mich.
